

St
Andrews
Voices

SCOTLAND'S FESTIVAL OF
VOCAL & CHORAL MUSIC
5TH ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL

20-23 OCTOBER

2016

THROUGHOUT THE FESTIVAL

Sound installation – Mortuos Plango, Vivos Voco

FREE

20-23 October, 2-5pm daily, St Andrews Preservation Trust Museum

Experience the extraordinary sounds of Jonathan Harvey's ground-breaking composition 'Mortuos Plango, Vivos Voco', which combines the tolling of the tenor bell at Winchester Cathedral with the voice of the composer's chorister son.

THURSDAY 20TH OCTOBER

The Bells of Holy Trinity

FREE

6pm, Church Square

To mark the opening of the festival, Gillian Craig will play the carillon of the town kirk.

Insalata I Fagiolini (Bean Salad) – A meal of Renaissance delights

7.30pm, St Salvator's Chapel

The festival's 2016 artists in residence, renowned vocal ensemble I Fagiolini, perform a hugely entertaining romp around Renaissance Europe in the style of a gourmet meal. Presented with their trademark wit, captivating staging and glorious singing, I Fagiolini bring the Renaissance to life as you've never heard it before with music by Monteverdi, Lassus, Janequin and Da Flecha.

Admission: £12 full price, £10 concession

Festival Fringe – Jazz Works

FREE

9.30pm, Byre Theatre Bar

Grab a drink, sit back, and enjoy a night of jazz, funk, swing and soul with some of St Andrews' best 'Town and Gown' musicians.

FRIDAY 21ST OCTOBER

Public Masterclass for Vocal Ensembles

FREE

10.30am, St Leonards Chapel

Robert Hollingworth, director of I Fagiolini, coaches some of the best up and coming vocal ensembles from across Scotland, including groups from St Andrews, Glasgow and Aberdeen Universities.

I Fagiolini – Amuse Bouche

7pm, Younger Hall

I Fagiolini and pianist Anna Markland look to Paris and the music of the 1910s-30s in this mouth-watering programme of French choral delicacies. With music by Poulenc, Fauré, and Satie, themed French wine & cheese and cabaret seating (spaces limited), this event will be a delight for all the senses.

Admission: £19 full price, £16 concession (including wine & cheese tasters)

FRIDAY 21ST OCTOBER

King Creosote

9.30pm, Byre Theatre Main Auditorium

One of Fife's greatest exports, celebrated folk/indie singer-songwriter and Mercury Prize nominee, King Creosote, paints a musical picture of his beloved homeland in this rare performance on home turf.

Admission: £15 full price, £12 concession, £10 student

SATURDAY 22ND OCTOBER

Sing-a-long Mary Poppins

10am, Byre Theatre Studio

A special sing-a-long screening of the classic family film Mary Poppins, with live warm up from St Andrews first all-female a cappella group, The Accidentals.

Admission: £6 full price, £4 concession

Family ticket (2 adults, 2 children): £17.50

Come & sing workshop

10.30am, Younger Hall

Open to anyone keen to develop their choral skills, this workshop with celebrated conductor and I Fagiolini member, Eamonn Dougan, will explore Monteverdi's 'Sfogava con le stelle' and Pierre's 'Puisque vivre en servitude' (both performed by I Fagiolini on 21st Oct). Music will be distributed in advance.

Admission: £10 full price, £5 concession

Afternoon Tea Cabaret with Jessica Walker

3pm, Hotel du Vin

Take one of the best cabaret stars around and add cakes, scones and lashings of tea to make a perfect afternoon! Jessica Walker ('a gifted chanteuse' - The New Yorker) showcases her stunning voice in a journey through a century of popular song, conjuring up the unique musical atmosphere of each decade, from the heady nights of the 20s and 30s, through the darker years of the 40s, and into the liberated 60s and beyond.

Admission (includes Afternoon Tea): £32 full price, £28 concession

Scottish Opera – Donizetti's 'The Elixir of Love'

7.30pm, Byre Theatre

Scottish Opera return to the festival with Donizetti's glorious comic opera 'The Elixir of Love' in a new instrumental accompaniment. Dynamic young British director Oliver Platt and designer Oliver Townsend take their inspiration from the world of P G Wodehouse in a cheeky, vividly characterised show with its tongue firmly in its cheek.

Admission: £16.50 full price, £5 under 26

'St Andrews [Voices] is one of the few festivals anywhere to focus entirely on the voice in all its glory... an extraordinary festival... the variety is tremendous.' BBC Radio 3

SUNDAY 23RD OCTOBER

Songs & Stories for wee ones

FREE

10am, Toppings Bookshop

Come and get your wriggle on celebrating 'The Fourth Bonniest Baby in Dundee' with Scottish author Michelle Sloan. Wee movers and shakers aged 3-6 should strap on their dancing shoes for a very special Sunday storytime! Places are free, but limited so book in early with the Bookshop to avoid disappointment 01334 585111.

Festival Service

FREE

11am, St Salvator's Chapel

Robert Hollingworth, director of I Fagiolini, conducts the Choir of St Salvator's Chapel in Purcell's Te Deum and the world-premiere of a new piece by the brilliant young Tyneside composer Joanna Ward.

Festival Fringe – 5th Anniversary Lunch

FREE

1pm, Byre Theatre Café (Lunch not included)

Sunday lunch with a difference! We celebrate the festival's 5th anniversary with a 'bring and share' musical lunch. Order your food from the Byre Café and tuck into music by school, student and community groups.

Mozart's 'The Magic Flute' (Scottish Premiere of New Production)

3pm, Younger Hall

Join us for a journey into the enchanted world of Mozart's masterpiece opera 'The Magic Flute.' Performed only once before – at Lichfield Festival in 2015 where it garnered rave reviews and a standing ovation – this acclaimed, semi-staged production features a specially commissioned new narration by Scottish author Janice Galloway, a new piano duet adaptation of Zemlinsky's keyboard transcription and stellar cast fresh from the stages of the ROH, WNO & La Scala: Anna Dennis (Pamina), Samantha Hay (Queen of the Night), Jonathan Gunthorpe (Papageno), Kate Valentine (1st Lady), Richard Wiegold (Sarastro) and Janice Galloway (Narrator).

Admission: £17 full price, £14 concession, £8 under 18s

Family ticket (2 adults, 2 children): £38

Supported by Thorntons and St Andrews Community Trust

'With masterclasses, recitals, performances and cabaret it's a weekend with a marvellous mix as well as a selection of world-class performers...'

Scots Magazine

Admission

Insalata I Fagiolini –

A meal of Renaissance delights

Admission: £12 full price, £10 concession

I Fagiolini – Amuse Bouche

Admission: £19 full price, £16 concession
(including wine & cheese tasters)

King Creosote

Admission: £15 full price,
£12 concession, £10 student

Sing-a-long Mary Poppins

Admission: £6 full price, £4 concession
Family ticket (2 adults, 2 children): £17.50

Come & sing workshop

Admission: £10 full price, £5 concession

Afternoon Tea Cabaret with Jessica Walker

Admission (includes Afternoon Tea):
£32 full price, £28 concession

Scottish Opera –

Donizetti's 'The Elixir of Love'

Admission: £16.50 full price, £5 under 26

Mozart's 'The Magic Flute'

Admission: £17 full price, £14 concession,
£8 under 18s
Family ticket (2 adults, 2 children): £38

Group discount

10% discount on 4 or more tickets
purchased for the same event

20% discount on 8 or more tickets
purchased for the same event

Concessions: students (except where separately priced), Music Centre members, over 60s, under 26s, unemployed, disabled/carer

Festival Passes

Festival passes:

Full price: £95 / Concession: £75
(excluding Scottish Opera)
Student/under 26s: £40
(excluding Scottish Opera and Afternoon Tea Cabaret)

Tickets

Tickets go on sale on 2nd August
from Byre Theatre, St Andrews
Box office: 01334 475000
Web: byretheatre.com

Tickets may be available on the door
prior to events, subject to availability.

Priority booking available to Supporting Voices patrons. For details of how to join,
see standreusvoices.com/support-the-festival

Contact Us

For more information about the festival programme and for a map of festival venues, please visit standreusvoices.com

- @ standreusvoices@gmail.com
- @standreusvoices
- standreusvoices

St Andrews Voices
gratefully acknowledges support from:

ALBA | CHRUTHACHAL

St Andrews Voices reserves the right to change artists, dates, venues and times without notice. Registered charity no. SC042900.

Supporting Voice Patrons, McPherson Trust,
Fidelio Trust and St Andrews Community Trust